MISSISSIPPI GOVERNOR GOES ON TRIAL

GOP Needling Of Cuba Policy Said 'Politics'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic Leader Carl Albert has snapped back at Republican critics of the administration's handling of the Cuban problem.

"Political, self-serving desperation," was the Oklahoman's description Thursday of the GOP attack.

Albert stormed to a microphone, visibly angry, after Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said Democrats had failed to back up their strong words with action when they rejected Wednesday a Republican amendment to a Cuban resolution.

The resolution, passed by both the House and Senate, was intended as a show of unity behind whatever steps Kennedy might take, including the use of force, to prevent Cuba from becoming a military threat in the hemisphere.

The amendment, proposing stronger language, was beaten down 251 to 140, drawing support from only three Democrats.

The Democratic leader added:

"The time has come for the members to reaffirm the unity of this country and this Congress and to make a determination that they will not resort to partisan politics in dealing with the problem of the security of this hemisphere."

Tighter Drug Control Bill OK'd by House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tighter drug control bill has sailed through the House, an unexpected dividend for the administration that can be credited largely to the sedative drug thalidomide.

Thalidomide, a tranquilizer blamed in Europe for birth malformations after it was taken by pregnant women, was banned from sale in this country under existing law.

But the outcry over the effects of the drug in Europe definitely spurred the passage of the new bill, which had been stalled for months in committee.

The bill parallels a Senate-passed measure, but there are many differences in language that probably will require a conference. The push is on, however, to get the bill cleared to the President before Congress goes home. Its backers see little difficulty in adjusting the two bills.

The House replaced a provision to excuse drug manufacturers from listing bad side effects of the drugs in medical journal advertising, if the ads tell doctors they can write for full details.

Reps. John Blatnik, D-Minn., and John D. Dingell, D-Mich., led the fight to change this provision and make manufacturers tell of the bad effects along with the good in their ads.

Tear Gas Routs Integrationists

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Police used tear gas to disperse a crowd of integrationist demonstrators who gathered in front of police headquarters Thursday night.

Illinois State Police, called to the scene, said the 250 to 300 persons were protesting the arrest of 28 marchers in downtown Cairo earlier in the evening. At least 15 more were arrested during the second protest.

Police arrested 27 Negroes and one white person earlier for violating a city ordinance prohibiting parading without a permit.

The marchers, out for the third straight night, carried placards which demanded a human relations council and protested alleged police brutality.

Governors Ask Voting Public To Consider Hospital Issue

Berger Hospital's Board of Governors, now in the midst of launching a campaign seeking passage of a levy for enlargement and improvement at the hospital, has directed seven questions to the voting public.

Board members first presented the questions to a large representation of community leaders Wednesday night. Now they suggest that the "selling points" of the issue be submitted to the people.

Affirming their position that the questionnaire - type submission does not answer all questions and problems involved in the hospital issue, Board members claim it did serve as a basis for their decision to place the levy on the Nov. 6 ballot. They said many hours were spent in an effort to come up with an objective outlook.

The final decision to place the issue on the ballot was made Sept. 5 by the county's Board of Commissioners. The Commission, the county's tax raising authority, turned the proposal down on Aug.

13, then reversed the action following renewed pleas from the Hospital Board. The original request was presented to the county fathers on July 30.

Here are the questions presented for voter consideration:

1. Do you feel that one hospital bed for about 1,167 people, as is the case at Berger now, is sufficient?

2. Do you feel Pickaway County needs additional specialized medical care, possible only by an enlarged adequate hospital?

3. Do you think the present 10 general practitioners in Pickaway County can adequately meet the needs of more than 35,000 people?

4. Do you realize that the average cost per person to raise $900,000 is about $26 or $5.20 each per year?

5. Do you agree that future growth and prosperity of this community includes not only adequate, churches and schools, but also adequate hospital and health facilities?

6. Do you believe the general medical problem will get better or worse, and is it not vitally necessary to plan for this need at once?

7. Do you think $1.50 per $1,000 of valuation is too much of a burden to assure proper hospital facilities?

The proposed levy, over a five-year period, would raise about $900,000 of an estimated $1,110,000 it will take to add approximately 44 new beds, revamp the old maternity section, provide a major change in the boiler and emergency power system and erect additional rooms, kitchens, equipment and other facilities.

The Board, hopeful the levy will pass, has expressed confidence that Hill-Burton federal aid will be made available to supplement the taxation money, plus provide the financial means for adding needed equipment for normal patient comfort.

HOWEVER, Board members have repeatedly stated that the county must make available its share of money before Hill-Burton assistance can be anticipated.

Lending encouragement to the Board at Wednesday night's meeting were Cecil Dillahunty and George Kester of the State Health Department's Division of Hospital Facilities, the agency which ad-

Ike Says U.S. Must Enforce Its Own Law

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says federal laws must be enforced to admit Negro James H. Meredith as a student to the University of Mississippi.

Referring to Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi, Eisenhower told a news conference Thursday:

"Now, here is a governor defying for a while the assistance of the National Guard, armed and paid for by the federal government, and defying the federal courts. This is absolutely unconscionable and indefensible."

Eisenhower, here for a Pennsylvania Republican fund-raising dinner, said he is positive the Kennedy administration "will do something" to require the university to admit Meredith in accordance with federal court orders.

"It will have to be done because, otherwise, the federal government and the federal judiciary will be completely defied," said the former president. "You just can't have that."

Lynchburg Student Is Killed in Crash

LYNCHBURG, Ohio (AP)—Joe Schuler, 16, Dodsonville, was killed instantly today when a car carrying him and four other Lynchburg High School students went off Ohio 134 a mile north of here.

All five were on their way to the farm-orama exposition at Wilmington.

State highway patrolmen said the car, driven by Roy Mimer, 17, left the highway on a curve near the Clinton-Highland county line. It struck a culvert and was demolished.

Senate OKs Penny Boost In Postal Rate

Federal Employees Also Granted Hike In Salary Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill that would increase both postal rates and the pay of federal employees has won Senate approval by an overwhelming 72-3 vote.

If enacted, it would mean a penny hike in postage for regular and air mail letters and a wage boost averaging about 10 per cent for 1.6 million government workers.

The next step is up to the House. If it takes the Senate measure as is, the bill goes to President Kennedy for signing into law. If the House balks, a joint conference would have to work out a compromise.

The House last January passed a bill designed to bring in $690 million a year more in postal revenue. But this measure does not provide for an increase for postal and other government workers.

In Thursday's debate Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, saw the two-step $1,049,000,000 pay hike as an effort "to buy votes" in an election year. And, Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., one of the three who voted against the bill, said it was calculated to make everybody happy except the taxpayer.

The pay raise would go into effect before the election, Robertson noted, and the postal rates rise afterward.

Sens. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and John J. Williams, R-Del., joined Robertson in voting against the bill. Lausche was one of four senators who, while not voting, went on record against it by arranging "pairs" with other senators who favored the measure.

Most senators said they felt the 1 million classified civil service employees and the 590,000 postal workers were fully entitled to the raise, which would more than offset the $603-million-a-year revenue increase in the bill.

If the bill becomes law, it will mark the third consecutive election year in which such a raise has been voted. The 1953 legislation granted a 10 per cent boost, and the 1960 bill 7.5 per cent. The 1960 measure was vetoed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, but he was overridden.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., who steered this year's measure through the Senate, said he had White House assurances it will receive Kennedy's approval if it clears the House.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day said he was gratified by the action on the postal legislation. The one-cent increase in first class rates "will give us the basic rate structure which, for the first time in many years, will be comparable to other major postal systems in the world," Day said.

The Senate bill carries an average 5.5 per cent increase for classified employees next month, plus 4.1 per cent in January 1964. Postal workers would get 8.6 per cent next month, and 2.6 per cent in the second step.

The last postal rate increase was in 1958, when the 3-cent letter stamp in effect for a quarter of a century was raised to 4 cents.

The Senate measure would boost this to 5 cents effective next Jan. 7 and increase airmail from 7 to 8 cents. In addition, second class mail—newspapers and magazines—would be boosted $27.6 million and third class, $97.2 million, both over three years.

Publisher Cautions On Armed Revolt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A noted Georgia publisher says the situation at Oxford, Miss., is such that federal marshals might be fired on and "you will have an armed rebellion against the United States government."

Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, said in an interview:

"Certainly, the United States government will have to move with troops or whatever it takes" to see that a federal court order to admit Negro James Meredith to the University of Mississippi is carried out.

McGill was here for a speech to the Louisville Committee on Foreign Relations Thursday.

LIQUOR CONTROL CHARGES — The president of a Kentucky distillery, Joseph Makler, has written a letter to Ohio Liquor Director George Dick (left), charging influence peddling in the department. Makler charged that the department under Richard Crouch (right), former liquor director, discontinued Makler's brands after "commission payments" ceased.

McElroy Promises Quick Probe in Liquor Shakedown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy told Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today he will make a "direct, prompt and forthright" investigation of the alleged influence peddling in connection with Ohio's liquor monopoly system.

McElroy added he will impanel a special grand jury if DiSalle orders it.

In response to a written request by the governor for guidance, McElroy replied:

"Let me assure you that this matter will be given maximum attention by my staff and me." McElroy said he and his staff will start accumulation of statements from principals immediately and probably will confer with DiSalle early next week.

DiSalle sought McElroy's advice within a matter of hours after allegations were made public that influence was offered and paid for in the listing of whisky brands in state stores.

Senate Panel Reduces Slash In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee has responded to a plea by President Kennedy and restored to the foreign aid money bill much of the funds cut by the House.

Tacked back onto the bill was $792,400,000 of the $1,124,400,000 House reduction.

Making the day doubly sweet for the administration, the committee loosened shackles placed by the House on the way some of the aid funds may be spent.

The appropriations measure now goes to the Senate floor carrying $4,422,800,000 for foreign aid.

In addition to changing the money totals the Senate committee modified House amendments aimed at banning aid to countries whose ships carry arms or other supplies to Cuba. Kennedy would have discretionary authority to waive the ban.

And, the committee substituted for a House bar against any aid to Poland and Yugoslavia discretionary authority for Kennedy to extend economic help to those countries upon a determination and a report to Congress that:

(1) It is vital to U.S. security, (2) The recipient country is not controlled by the Sino-Soviet axis and (3) It will promote a country's independence from the international Communist conspiracy.

Dinnerware Firm Votes To Quit; 500 To Be Idle

NEWELL, W.Va. (AP)—The 62-year-old Edwin M. Knowles China Co. is going out of business, throwing some 500 employees out of work.

W. A. Harris Jr., president, said today shareholders had voted to liquidate the business and assets and dissolve the corporation.

He blamed foreign competition and increasingly high costs of manufacturing for the demise of Knowles, which produces dinnerware.

Barnett Absent But U.S. Court Hearing Opens

Effort Is Pressed To Enroll Negro in State University

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi failed to appear as the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals started contempt hearing for him today.

The trial proceeded without Barnett. Previously court sources said the governor could be tried in absentia since the charge was civil contempt.

The court had directed that the 64-year-old governor—who vows to go to jail rather than integrate the University of Mississippi—appear and show cause why he shouldn't be cited for civil contempt.

Barnett has three times defied federal court orders directing that Negro James H. Meredith be enrolled at the 114-year-old all-white state university.

In Washington, the Justice Department denied reports of a weekend truce and said it will "proceed" with its plans in the desegregation crisis. The department refused to confirm or deny that Kennedy and Barnett had been in touch by telephone during the night.

Information officer Edward Guthman said the department would proceed with its plans, but declined to say what the plans were.

He did say Burke Marshall, assistant attorney general heading the department's civil rights division, still was in New Orleans, La., to present the government's case in contempt of court proceedings against Barnett, despite Barnett's failure to appear in the U.S. Circuit Court.

Guthman said Meredith also was in New Orleans. He refused to comment when asked whether the 29-year-old Meredith would attempt for a fifth time this week to enroll at the university.

Defense sources say the direct use of Army forces in the Mississippi dispute would come only as a last resort but that standby planning has been done on the basis of calling in some 1,500 men. The force would include 500 military police, who could come from Ft. Gordon, Ga.; and 1,000 infantrymen. The latter could be drawn from the infantry center at Ft. Benning, Ga., base for the 2nd Infantry Division and some smaller units.

Meanwhile, a detachment of 110 Army Engineers arrived at Memphis, Tenn., to provide supplies, meals, administrative services and living quarters for the U.S. marshals assigned to the Oxford, Miss., area.

On the Ole Miss campus, the citizen army of 500 peace officers, which had guarded the university gates Thursday, was gone early today.

An Army spokesman emphasized that the Engineers will have absolutely nothing to do with affairs in Mississippi. They will remain at Memphis, 50 miles north of this college town.

The Engineers—first federal troops to be ordered to any kind of duty in connection with the defiance of court orders by Mississippi's top officials—arrived at the Memphis Naval Air Station at 3 a.m. after a 200-mile overnight trip from Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Their 49-truck convoy included tractor-trailers carrying heavy equipment, tractor-drawn vans, jeeps and other vehicles.

"They have with them the capacity to set up a tent city to furnish bedding, cooking and that type of service for the marshals," said Lt. Col. T. A. Price, deputy commander of operations at Ft. Campbell.

Price said the members of the 70th Engineer Battalion, were armed because their maneuver was a mobility exercise.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy dramatically halted Meredith's fourth attempt to become the first Negro knowingly admitted to the university, saying he feared "major violence and bloodshed for the citizens of Mississippi" would result if U.S. marshals and Meredith appeared on the campus.

Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi agreed. An Atlanta television station, WSB-TV, quoted Johnson as saying in an interview Thursday night that "If the state troopers hadn't been at Ole (Continued on Page 2)

On the Ole Miss campus, the citizen army of 500 peace officers, which had guarded the university gates Thursday, was gone early today.

An Army spokesman emphasized that the Engineers will have absolutely nothing to do with affairs in Mississippi. They will remain at Memphis, 50 miles north of this college town.

The Engineers—first federal troops to be ordered to any kind of duty in connection with the defiance of court orders by Mississippi's top officials—arrived at the Memphis Naval Air Station at 3 a. m. after a 200-mile overnight trip from Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Their 49-truck convoy included tractor-trailers carrying heavy equipment, tractor-drawn vans, jeeps and other vehicles.

"They have with them the capacity to set up a tent city to furnish bedding, cooking and that type of service for the marshals," said Lt. Col. T. A. Price, deputy commander of operations at Ft. Campbell.

Price said the members of the 70th Engineer Battalion, were armed because their maneuver was a mobility exercise.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy dramatically halted Meredith's fourth attempt to become the first Negro knowingly admitted to the university, saying he feared "major violence and bloodshed for the citizens of Mississippi" would result if U.S. marshals and Meredith appeared on the campus.

Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson of Mississippi agreed. An Atlanta television station, WSB-TV, quoted Johnson as saying in an interview Thursday night that "If the state troopers hadn't been at Ole

Johnson estimated a crowd of 5,000 to 8,000 were gathered at the university in anticipation of another appearance by Meredith and told WSB-TV: "You couldn't have turned them back with a regiment of men. A lot of lives were saved by their (federal marshals) not coming."
Kennedy halted Meredith's party, late Thursday as the Korean War veteran was driving here with federal marshals.
A helmeted and club-carrying army of Mississippi peace officers waited at Ole Miss as Kennedy conferred in Washington with an Army general.
Meredith's lawyers in New Orleans said they had advised him "to make no further efforts to enter the campus until after the insurrection there has been put down by the executive branch of the government."
The attorney general met earlier with Maj. Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., director of operations for the Army's deputy chief of staff for operations. Informed sources hinted the talk involved arrangements to move troops into Mississippi if such a course of action is taken.
With many imponderables, Justice Department officials declined to guess what might happen.
One Washington source speculated 1,500 troops would be used if the decision to use soldiers is made.
At Gulfport, Miss., Bill Simpson—a close associate of Barnett—said there were about 4,000 men available for the governor's use in defying federal authority.
Simpson's brother, Jim Simpson who is also a political ally of the governor, said Highway Patrol Director T. B. Birdson has issued a directive that any means necessary must be used to protect Barnett and prevent his arrest.
Both Simpsons said Barnett hoped to avoid violence but had no intention of backing down.
And in Dallas, Tex., Edwin A. Walker, the former major general who called for volunteers to oppose any troops sent to integration-troubled Mississippi, said today that developments would determine his next move.
"I'm standing by," Walker said, "awaiting developments—waiting to see whether troops go into Mississippi."
He added that he expects to go to Mississippi personally if soldiers are sent to enforce court orders for integration.
Walker appealed for 10,000 volunteers representing every state to "rise to a stand beside Gov. Ross Barnett at Jackson, Miss."

there has been any violation of law or conflict of interest. I would also like your advice as to the legality of the possibility of impaneling a special grand jury in order to summon anyone who has any information of wrongdoing, implied or in fact."
The governor also asked for a legal opinion as to the calling of news reporters, who have confidential immunity under law, for the purpose of testifying before a special grand jury. DiSalle said the appearance of reporters would be for information which they might possess on a first-hand basis without disclosing the source of any other information.
"My one simple interest is to make certain not only that no one outside of state government has violated the law," DiSalle continued, "but that no state employee has in any way violated his oath of office or the responsibilities of his particular position."
"I do want to be certain that, if such evidence does exist, such individuals are prosecuted and that any violation of his official responsibilities be prosecuted before the Department of Personnel of the State of Ohio."
The president of the Chicago firm also stated in his letter that when his company turned down repeated requests for whisky and more money, the brands were delisted in Ohio stores.
Liquor department records show that Waterfall & Frazier products were delisted in 1960 and 1961 for "failing to meet required monthly sales quotas set by the department through an International Business Machines computer system."
Flanagan, in Florida on business, denied being involved in the allegations. In a statement Flanagan said:
"I have met Mr. Makler only twice. Once was for about a half-hour in a group of other people. The second time was when I passed him in the hotel lobby and said hello."
Flanagan, however, said Makler telephoned him some time later asking why he was not getting any business from the Liquor Department.
Flanagan said he checked with Crouch and found that Makler's products were not selling in the state stores and had to be sold at specially reduced prices.
"I relayed this information to Mr. Makler and that was the last I have ever heard from him," Flanagan's statement concluded.
Forty centuries before Christ, people lived in mud-brick villages and tilled the soil of the relatively fertile northern Negev.

Stock Market Rallies Anew

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied, making a fairly sharp recovery in moderately active trading early this afternoon.
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 214.7 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .2 and utilities up .1.
Prices moved unevenly at the start but as they refused to give way, traders became more confident and enough buying set in to push up the average.
Steels, motors, chemicals, oils, some of the "growth" stocks and selected issues moved higher.
Gains of most key stocks were fractional but some picked up a point or two.

Governors . . .

ministers Hill - Burton funds in Ohio. Both commended the Governors' concentrated efforts in seeking general overall improvements at Berger.

Hill-Burton funds already have been approved to aid plans for construction of a new maternity wing at Berger. The grant of $104,625 will go along with the approximately $215,000 on hand at the hospital to complete the project.

At first little interest was shown by Hill-Burton officials in the substandard maternity wing at Berger. Rather their main concern was with the overall improvement of the hospital.
However, the maternity wing grant threw a different light on the Hospital Board's general expansion program. The Hill - Burton money, along with that on hand, has almost made the obstetrics project an accomplished fact.

But Board members have emphasized that the new maternity wing success does not have a direct bearing on the upcoming expansion issue, although replacement of the OB section was included in the original planning. They note that none of the approved Hill-Burton money can be directed to the general program.

IN THE SAME token, they explained that the present maternity section, which will be vacated once the new wing is completed, cannot be used for general patient beds. Under state requirements, general patient beds cannot adjoin the maternity section. This leaves the singular alternative of placing the abandoned section under general usage.

Aware of the need for a comprehensive and understandable promotional program prior to Nov. 6, the Board of Governors last night mapped plans to publish and circulate a brochure which will outline their expansion objectives. Members hope it will be ready for distribution within a week.

The small pamphlet, intended to be clear and concise, will describe the proposed additions and list pertinent statistics. One section will cover Berger activities today compared with those in 1955.

Stock Market Rallies Anew

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied, making a fairly sharp recovery in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 214.7 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .2 and utilities up .1.

Prices moved unevenly at the start but as they refused to give way, traders became more confident and enough buying set in to push up the average.

Steels, motors, chemicals, oils, some of the "growth" stocks and selected issues moved higher. Gains of most key stocks were fractional but some picked up a point or two.

Governors . . .

ministers Hill-Burton funds in Ohio. Both commended the Governors' concentrated efforts in seeking general overall improvements at Berger.

Hill-Burton funds already have been approved to aid plans for construction of a new maternity wing at Berger. The grant of $104,625 will go along with the approximately $215,000 on hand at the hospital to complete the project.

At first little interest was shown by Hill-Burton officials in the substandard maternity wing at Berger. Rather their main concern was with the overall improvement of the hospital.

However, the maternity wing grant threw a different light on the Hospital Board's general expansion program. The Hill-Burton money, along with that on hand, has almost made the obstetrics project an accomplished fact.

But Board members have emphasized that the new maternity wing success does not have a direct bearing on the upcoming expansion issue, although replacement of the OB section was included in the original planning. They note that none of the approved Hill-Burton money can be directed to the general program.

IN THE SAME token, they explained that the present maternity section, which will be vacated once the new wing is completed, cannot be used for general patient beds. Under state requirements, general patient beds cannot adjoin the maternity section. This leaves the singular alternative of placing the abandoned section under general usage.

Aware of the need for a comprehensive and understandable promotional program prior to Nov. 6, the Board of Governors last night mapped plans to publish and circulate a brochure which will outline their expansion objectives. Members hope it will be ready for distribution within a week.

The small pamphlet, intended to be clear and concise, will describe the proposed additions and list pertinent statistics. One section will cover Berger activities today compared with those in 1955.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mississippi's Gov. Ross R. Barnett is just a Johnny-come-lately in waving the state rights' flag to defy the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Other states and their leaders have done the same, almost from the beginning of both the government and the court. State rights are an important part of the American system of government. But the state rights' slogan has often been a handy, and sometimes reckless, excuse to have things both ways: To boost the union when it's convenient and to defy the union when that's convenient.

Fortunately most of the time—except during the Civil War—when one state tried defiance under the state rights' blanket, others wouldn't. So there wasn't much ganging up.

Barnett is doing the defying now in Mississippi by refusing to let a 29-year-old Negro veteran of the Korean War, James H. Meredith, register at the all-white University of Mississippi.

This defiance is immediately against a lower federal court which ordered Mississippi authorities to let Meredith in the school. But basically it is a defiance of the Supreme Court's ban on racial segregation in public schools.

To show how the state rights' cry has often been used as a political gimmick, American historians Samuel Eliot Morison and Henry Steele Commager, in their

"Growth of The American Republic," said:

"Almost every man in public life between 1798 and 1860 spurned it when his section was in the saddle and embraced it when his constituents deemed themselves oppressed."

"Almost every state in turn declared its own absolute sovereignty, only to denounce as treasonable similar declarations by other states."

And Charles Beard, in his "Rise of American Civilization," said: "From the foundations of the republic all factions were for high nationalism or low provincialism upon occasion, according to their desires at the moment."

Mississippi is a prime example. South Carolina, when it felt it was hurting in the 1920s from a tariff act passed by Congress, declared the doctrine of "nullification." This meant it decided it had the right to declare any act of Congress unconstitutional and refused to abide by it.

So it threatened to jail any U.S. officials who tried to collect tariff duties in South Carolina. Virginia, Alabama and Georgia wanted no part of this. And Thursday night Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy quoted the Mississippi State Legislature at the time as passing this resolution:

"This state owes a duty to the union above all minor considerations. The doctrine of nullification is contrary to the letter and spirit of the Constitution."

By James Marlow

Now, in effect, Mississippi has adopted the doctrine of nullification.

South Carolina finally nullified its nullification when Congress, while authorizing President Jackson to use the Army and Navy if he had to, mollified South Carolina by amending the tariff act a bit.

The Supreme Court was defied almost from the moment the justices sat down. In 1793 Georgia, which wouldn't go along with South Carolina on the state rights' bit in the 1820s, challenged the right of the court to consider a suit against a state. Its House of Representatives passed a resolution that any U.S. marshal trying to execute a court order in such a suit should be hanged without benefit of clergy.

Their Senate complained about the "monstrous despotism" of the U.S. Supreme Court.

But other states in one way or another—Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Maryland—defied the court at one time or another.

Presidents Jefferson and Madison, before they were presidents, helped along the idea that the state has the right to decide for itself whether it will accept an act or decision of the federal government.

This was in a resolution written by Jefferson and passed by the Kentucky Legislature and another written by Madison and approved by the Virginia Legislature. Both men were angry about the alien and sedition laws rammed through by their political enemies, the Federalists who ran Congress.

Historian Beard, looking back upon the undiminished survival of the court despite all the attacks on it, wrote in his "American Government and Politics":

"In spite of the attacks of its critics and the fears of its friends, the Supreme Court yet abides with us as the very strong tower defending the American political system."

The Supreme Court itself told off state officials like Barnett in 1958 when Arkansas' Gov. Orval Faubus tried to prevent integration of a Little Rock high school by using state troops. He folded up fast when President Eisenhower sent in federal troops, which is what President Kennedy may have to do in Mississippi.

The court said constitutional protection against discrimination in public schools because of race or color "can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislatures or state executives or state judicial officers nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive means."

Boy Near Goal in Girl Search

MUNDELEIN, Ill. (AP) — Six Chicago area high school girls want to help a boy they've never met pass his college entrance exams.

The six responded to an ad Carl Sorensen ran in several suburban weekly newspapers in the Mundelein area northwest of Chicago: "Mundelein high school boy, 17, wishes to meet bright, intelligent smart girl. Attractive preferred. Object: Honor roll."

"I'm just a C student," Carl confessed Wednesday, "and I figured if my grades don't improve, I just won't get into college next fall."

The closest correspondent was an Elgin girl—20 miles away. The other five were all Chicagoans.

"We've only got one car," Carl's mother said. "I don't know how Carl could commute to his tutor."

Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers in turn warrant to owners, as follows: that for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades and brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items. The benefits of the warranty are available to the original purchaser and to subsequent owners of the vehicle during the time and mileage limits prescribed in the warranty.

Here is what it means to you

The new 1963 Ford-built cars and trucks are quality-engineered and manufactured to serve you better and last longer than ever before. The proof is in the warranty... proof of quality unheard of a few years ago.

In fact, it was only two years ago that Ford Motor Company announced the 12-month, 12,000-mile passenger car warranty which became the industry standard as other manufacturers followed Ford's lead. At the same time, Lincoln Continental became the only American-built car warranted for two full years or 24,000 miles, whichever came first. Now, this warranty applies to all Ford-built cars, regardless of price. Why is this possible?

Actually, the new warranty is a natural outgrowth of the engineering leadership that has resulted in twice-a-year (or every 6,000-mile) passenger car maintenance. It goes hand-in-glove with such Ford-pioneered service savers as the elimination of the 1,000-mile inspection... 30,000- to 36,000-mile intervals between major lubrications, 6,000-mile intervals between oil changes and minor lubrications, self-adjusting brakes, aluminized mufflers, and longer-life electrical systems.

These features that save you time and money as you drive are a direct reflection of the total quality achievements of Ford Motor Company.

Enrollment Increase Everywhere

A quiet revolution, sometimes erupting into noisy controversy, is moving into high gear this year on American campuses. This is not the anticipated rush of post-war babies which has taken colleges by storm. That is a crisis most campuses will not experience before 1964.

This fall another type of student population explosion became a reality in freshman classes. It caught many educators by surprise and exceeded even the most liberal projections. It was the high percentage of last spring's high school graduating class which goes to college.

For a number of years, the ratio of high school graduates going on to higher education has grown each year by about one per cent. This year, the number going to college is expected to be 8 per cent greater than in 1961. Almost 59 per cent of this year's high school graduates are in the 1962 college freshman class, an all-time record.

Nearly 50 per cent of the women in this year's high school class are now in college and 70 per cent of the men. Both show rapid acceleration over the customary growth rate. The ratios are phenomenal when it is remembered that only four per cent of the 1900 high school graduating class went to college.

Every phase of higher education is participating in the 1962 boom. Even schools offering part-time courses for working students report significant enrollment increases.

Can You Remember When —

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you an old-timer?

An old-timer is a person who enjoys using the present as a reminiscent springboard back into the past. Anything that happens today reminds him of something else that happened in some yesterday of his life.

There is a difference between an old-timer and an old fogey. An old fogey is a living fossil who feels everything in the past was better. An old-timer simply gets a nostalgic pleasure out of recalling what went before—whether it was better or worse.

You are probably an old-timer yourself if you can remember when—

You first learned to make music by humming through a piece of tissue paper on a pocket comb. "The Stars and Stripes Forever" was perhaps the best tune for this form of art.

Most boys carried their marbles in a Bull Durham tobacco sack. It was a patriotic duty to help beat the kaiser in the first World War by saving tinfoil from cigarette packs.

Folks feared the first family that started cooking with gas would blow up the whole neighborhood.

No baby had got off to a proper start in life until its fond parent had had it photographed, sans diaper, lying tummy down on a cloth of plush.

It was widely believed that if Congress raised the income tax rate above 10 per cent it would spur a bloody, nationwide revolution.

Johnny not only could read—but could also write legibly and work out problems in arithmetic.

Few school boards would hire a married schoolmarm, because a married woman's place was in the home.

Farmers blamed their woes on Wall Street, and Wall street regarded William Jennings Bryan as a wild-eyed radical.

The liniment for men and horses came out of the same bottle.

Foods were fried in lard, and nobody had ever heard of polyunsaturated fats.

If you left a waitress more than a dime tip, she knew for sure you were from out of town.

High school lads got their first lessons in feminine anatomy by sneaking into a burlesque show on Saturday afternoon. But they learned less than they do today by looking at the girdle ads in a woman's magazine.

There was no such thing as a joint family checking account. If a wife wanted a new bonnet, rather than ask her husband for the money she'd save it up from her household allowance.

Yes, that's how America used to be. Remember, old-timer?

Why do you send your child to high school and college? Unless you are rich, you do it at a sacrifice. You might use the cost to take care of your old age, to invest in a business or even to spend on a good time for yourself. You send your children to be educated, to improve themselves, to increase their opportunities in life.

Enid A. Haupt, editor of "Seventeen," has other ideas. She says: "Start your September social life in high by trying some of these ways to bait a date:

"1. Be seen where the boys are, at sports events, rallies, field practice.

"2. Take courses with labs. Working together in school can lead to dating together later."

In other words, one does not go to school to obtain knowledge, skills, preparation for service. A girl goes to school to grab herself a guy. The school is a marriage agency, a lonely hearts club, a place where one: "3. Sign up for boy-type classes — calculus, trigonometry and the like." It is possible that your might even learn something while you are fixing a date.

Apparently it is necessary to keep a girl's mind on biological pursuits, euphemistically called sex. Perhaps that is why the Russians in a short period of 45 years have pushed so far ahead in educational methods and procedures; why they turn out more engineers than we do, male and female. As soon as the Communists took over Russia, they laid stress on higher education and the preparation for it. They got results, too.

I wonder if it is Enid Haupt's educational notion that nabbing a boy will build a strong class of experts who can perform efficiently the thousand tasks now required if we are to survive? It seems that she suggests for the intellectual girl that she: "5. Join activities which lure boys: newspaper, year-book, debating squad."

It might even be smart, I presume, to be able to read poetry and know something about music so that the high-brow boy might be fooled into believing that the fool is dating together later."

Mom was in the store only a few minutes, but when she got back to the car the children were half-dead!

For safety, she had closed all windows and locked the doors. But deadly carbon monoxide (CO) poured in through the vent up front when the car ahead warmed its motor before pulling out into traffic.

Inhaling belching exhaust can be fatal. Incompletely burned fuel forms carbon monoxide (CO)—a colorless, odorless, tasteless killer.

Complete burning produces carbon dioxide (CO₂)—those friendly bubbles in soda pop.

Carbon monoxide poisons blood cells, leaving them unable to carry oxygen. If narrowed arteries can barely deliver enough oxygen-rich blood to your heart muscle, a little carbon monoxide may usher in a heart attack.

Your head throbs, your stomach rumbles and thousands of rockets blast in your ears. The world whirrs. You grow weak and unconscious.

Carbon monoxide is a winter-time killer. Storm windows seal your home while deadly fumes back up by a clogged flue or leaky furnace. Carbon monoxide may ooze into your car from a corroded exhaust pipe and overwhelm you.

A poorly adjusted stove may burn non-poisonous natural gas into poisonous carbon monoxide.

Small daily doses leave you headachy and drowsy. On-the-road tests show that irritated, impatient truck drivers are often sealed in cabs, breathing generous amounts of carbon monoxide.

Fresh air helps wash out the deadly gas. So does oxygen and rescue equipment carried by police and fire emergency squads.

Prevention is simpler. Have a trained service man check your stove and furnace regularly. Replace corroded auto exhaust pipes. Never run the engine with garage doors shut.

And always drive with both eyes and at least one window open!

NEW YORK (AP)—The rising price of silver and the premium price commanded by gold tends today to accent the uneasy tinge in the world's money markets.

The central banks have worked out a scheme to guard against raids on various currencies, including the U.S. dollar, by speculators or by investors who develop twinges of doubt of currency values. The price changes in the precious metals emphasize the need for and the problems besetting such an arrangement.

The pressure on silver prices is caused by rising industrial use, especially accentuated in the electronics and space age, rather than by currency demand. But silver nevertheless is part of the world's monetary system—either in pocket coins or in reserves backing paper money in large sections of the world. Silver backs some of the small bills in your billfold.

Gold reserves are guarded by central banks in most important financial nations. And no scheme to do away with this has caught on as yet.

Such reserves are back of much of the U.S. paper money. And the rise in the price of gold in the free market—$35.115 an ounce in London Thursday, compared to the official $35 U. S. Treasury price—in a way is a measure of many investors' evaluation, right or wrongly of the American financial situation at the moment. That the price is lower than a short time back is all to the good for our side.

The rapid and continuing rise of the price of silver—Thursday it was $1.21 an ounce in London—from the 91 cents an ounce at the end of November 1961 also doesn't yet tempt any hoarding of silver coins. The Treasury says the price would have to reach $1.29 an ounce before the silver content of the dollar would be worth extracting for itself alone.

But the steady climb in silver's price affects many manufacturers, especially the big users in electronics and photography. And in time it could send the cost of consumer items such as jewelry, flatware and films higher.

Some makers of silver alloys used by manufacturers have raised prices in line with the jump in metal quotations. In general, makers of consumer items are still holding the price line, waiting to see if the metal can stick at the higher level. It might not, if speculators decided to cash in their holdings.

For the money managers the problems raised by rising prices of silver or gold, especially the latter, center on the temptation to foreign speculators or investors to turn in their dollar holdings for a meal.

And as dollars pile up in foreign central banks there is always the urge to build up their own gold reserves by exchanging their dollars for metal. In spite of the continuing piling up of excess dollars abroad this year, Washington has been able to ward off any raids that would weaken the dollar in international exchange.

Enrollment Increase Everywhere

A quiet revolution, sometimes erupting into noisy controversy, is moving into high gear this year on American campuses. This is not the anticipated rush of post-war babies which has faken colleges by storm. That is a crisis most campuses will not experience before 1964.

This fall another type of student population explosion became a reality in freshman classes. It caught many educators by surprise and exceeded even the most liberal projections. It was the high percentage of last spring's high school graduating class which goes to college.

For a number of years, the ratio of high school graduates going on to higher education has grown each year by about one per cent. This year, the number going to college is expected to be 8 per cent greater than in 1961. Almost 59 per cent of this year's high school graduates are in the 1962 college freshman class, an all-time record.

Nearly 50 per cent of the women in this year's high school class are now in college and 70 per cent of the men. Both show rapid acceleration over the customary growth rate. The ratios are phenomenal when it is remembered that only four per cent of the 1900 high school graduating class went to college.

Every phase of higher education is participating in the 1962 boom. Even schools offering part-time courses for working students report significant enrollment increases.

An old-timer is a person who enjoys using the present as a reminiscent springboard back into the past. Anything that happens today reminds him of something else that happened in some yesterday of his life.

I wonder if it is Enid Haupt's educational notion that nabbing a boy will build a strong class of experts who can perform efficiently the thousand tasks now required if we are to survive? It seems that she suggests for the intellectual girl that she: "5. Join activities which lure boys: newspaper, year-book, debating squad." It might even be smart. I presume, to be able to read poetry and know something about music so that the high-brow boy might be fooled into believing that the girl is all there. In another period, a boy might have sent his mother to discover if the girl had a glass eye.

Here are a few tricks that all unmarried girls might try. They will not, of course, develop a girl into a nurse or a physician or a biochemist but it might get her a "steady":

"7. Eat or walk alone sometimes. Solid packs of girls can scare off boys, while a lone lamb is often appealing. 8. Be courteous to new boys in your class as well as class officers. 9. Smile and greet everyone. A friendly girl (you) is more fun to know. 10. If you know one boy in a group, greet him — and join the group. 11. Carry something enormous: it may encourage masculine offers of help."

This can all be simplified in this fashion: Only a square is sincere. In these tough times, any underhand trick is morally O. K., as long as a girl gets a boy. It is like the gangster who says, "I got to live, ain't I?"

There is one tip for a girl in Enid Haupt's article which truly thrilled me:

"14. Offer to type his term paper. In return, ask him to proof-read yours. The exchange of ideas will go a long way toward breaking the dating ice."

Why not write the term paper for the boy? Why not swindle for him? Maybe give him crib sheets? Perhaps that is the way to build character and make a great man out of a natural louse? In "Romeo and Juliet," Shakespeare shows a much easier way for boy and girl to meet. Even those teen-agers came to a bad end.

Enid Haupt undoubtedly planned this article well, but the United States needs something more than that at this moment in its history. It requires character, a moral basis for society; it needs an educated youth that will build as strongly as the pioneers who turned a wilderness into a powerful nation.

I should not like to have a daughter or a daughter-in-law who spent her college years according to Enid Haupt's program. I wonder how many parents send their children to school with only this in mind. Are we to turn out a nation of drum majorettes?

THE REMARKABLE CIRCUMSTANCES ATTENDING
THE BIRTH OF A GREAT PROPHET, HIS FAITHFUL-NESS TO HIS DIVINE CALL AND FINAL MARTYDOM

Scripture—Luke 1:5-25, 57-80; 3:1-20; Mark 6:14-29.

By N. SPEER JONES

THE STORY of the birth of John the Baptist and that of his death are so well known, that we will devote our space here to some historical background.
Our lesson opens, "In the days of Herod, king of Judea . . ."
This was the Herod who was called "the Great," the bold and unscrupulous ruler, who sought to destroy Christ by killing all the male babies in Bethlehem.
His success fully kept himself in the good graces of the Roman powers, even through the troubled political waters at the time of Julius Caesar's death and subsequent struggles for power involving Marc Anthony, Cleopatra and Augustus.

As our story opens, he is almost on his deathbed, for he died in 4 B.C.

When Herod died, his kingdom was divided. One of his sons, named also Herod, was given a tetrarchy, technically a fourth part; his share was Herod (Antipas) had first been married to a daughter of the Arabian king, Aretas. When he became infatuated with Herodias, whom he met on a visit to Rome, his Arabian wife learned of his plans to replace her and escaped to her father, who subsequently made war on Herod and defeated him.

John the Baptist's condemnation of his plans to replace her and of incest, for Herodias was Herod's sister-in-law and niece.
The daughter of Herodias who danced so lasciviously for Herod at his birthday banquet was the famous Salome.

Luke 3:2 mentions the high-priesthood of Annas and Cai-phas. This is significant, for Mosaic law dictated that there should be only one high priest at a time, and the office was for life. Herod had ignored this law for political expediency. Annas, the true high priest, had been deposed; Caiphas was the

the provinces of Galilee and Perea. His full name was Herod Antipas, although the Bible often refers to him simply as Herod, thus making him easily confused with his father. Mark 6:14 also confuses the issue by referring to him as "king," a title he did not have. He was as unscrupulous as his father, but without strength of will.

A half-brother of Herod Antipas, named Herod Philip, inherited the tetrarchy of the districts east and northeast of the Lake of Galilee, the poorest section of his father's kingdom.
Unlike his brother and father, he was an excellent ruler, just and peace-loving. It was to his territory that Christ often went, crossing the Sea of Galilee. The people there were chiefly Greeks and Syrians.

This Herod Philip is not to be confused with another brother of Herod Antipas, also named Philip, whose wife, Herodias, carried on the intrigue with Herod Antipas.

fourth to reign in his stead. Yet Annas, called the most astute man of his time, maintained his political power with the Jews.
The wilderness where John preached was a barren, blistering area known as the Ghor, a great depression at the lower end of the Jordan River, where it enters the Dead Sea.

Perhaps the greatest significance of his preaching beyond the prophecy of the coming Messiah, was the inherent democracy of the rite he introduced—baptism.

The Jews had used baptism, but only for certain segments of the population—the priests in their consecration, and the lepers and others thought to be unclean, to purify them. Now we have a leveling rite, to be participated in by all, Jew and Gentile, heathen and leper, publican and priest. It taught the basic humility and repentance necessary for all for the remission of sin.

Spanish Prince Still Awaits
Decision: Will He Be King?

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Handsome Prince Juan Carlos and his Greek princess bride, Sophia, are on a seemingly endless honeymoon because they are in the middle of a political tug-of-war which may decide when — or whether — he becomes the next king of Spain.

At one end of the rope is the prince's father, pretender Don Juan. At the other is Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish caudil-lo. Both have dug in their heels, monarchist sources here say for the battle over Prince Juan Carlos' future.

The prince and princess, married last May 14 in Athens, are back from an around-the-world honeymoon which seems destined not to end until Juan Carlos'
father and Gen. Franco agree on his future.

The situation requires an early meeting of Gen. Franco and Don Juan, monarchists say. The future position of the prince in Spain must be settled satisfactorily before he can come back here to live.

The young prince and his bride paused in Madrid after their marriage only long enough to make a required appearance at the home of Gen. Franco for lunch.
They have been traveling since in the apparent hope that on their return the question of the prince's future would be settled.

Last week they spent only 20 minutes at Madrid's airport en route from Switzerland to Lisbon
for a visit with the prince's father.
They plan two weeks there, then

—if their future in Spain still errands cloudy—they may go to Athens for a visit with the bride's parents.

But this can't go on forever.
The demands of the Count of Barcelona (royal title of Don Juan de Bourbon) and the needs of Spain must be reconciled.

Basically, monarchists here say,
there are two major problems to be resolved for Prince Juan Carlos, now 24, and his Greek bride.
Don Juan wants Gen. Franco to give Prince Juan Carlos an official position and possibly with it
the title of Prince of Asturias, which in Spain is equivalent to that of the Duke of Windsor in England, monarchists say.

The second problem is agreement on a formula by which Don Juan will formally abandon his own claim to the Spanish throne
in order to pass it on to his son.
Thus far he has refused to renounce his claim, and his son has shied away from accepting appointment as heir apparent without his father's formal approval.
Official sources here are silent
on the situation.

Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.;

Decision: Will He Be King?

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Handsome Prince Juan Carlos and his Greek princess bride, Sophia, are on a seemingly endless honeymoon because they are in the middle of a political tug-of-war
which may decide when — or whether — he becomes the next
king of Spain.

At one end of the rope is the prince's father, pretender Don Juan. At the other is Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish caudillo. Both have dug in their heels, monarchists here say for the battle over Prince Juan Carlos' future.

The prince and princess, married last May 14 in Athens, are back from an round-the-world honeymoon which seems destined
not to end until Juan Carlos'
father and Gen. Franco agree on his future.

The situation requires an early meeting of Gen. Franco and Don Juan, monarchists say. The future
position of the prince in Spain
must be settled satisfactorily before he can come back here to live.

The young prince and his bride
paused in Madrid after their marriage only long enough to make a required appearance at the home of Gen. Franco for lunch.
They have been traveling since in
the apparent hope that on their return the question of the prince's future would be settled.

Last week they spent only 20
minutes at Madrid's airport enroute from Switzerland to Lisbon
for a visit with the prince's father.
They plan two weeks there, then

—if their future in Spain still remains cloudy—they may go to Athens for a visit with the bride's parents.

But this can't go on forever.
The demands of the Count of Barcelona (royal title of Don Juan de Bourbon) and the needs of Spain must be reconciled.

Basically, monarchists here say,
there are two major problems to be resolved for Prince Juan Carlos, now 24, and his Greek bride.

Don Juan wants Gen. Franco to give Prince Juan Carlos an official position and possibly with it
the title of Prince of Asturias,
which in Spain is equivalent to that of the Duke of Windsor in England, monarchists say.

The second problem is agreement on a formula by which Don Juan will formally abandon his own claim to the Spanish throne
in order to pass it on to his son.
Thus far he has refused to renounce his claim, and his son has shed a way from accepting without his father's formal approval.

Official sources here are silent
on the situation.

More Premiers On TV Coming

At Least One Every Night Is Scheduled

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television continues its hectic schedule of program premiers during the next seven days, with at least one debut a night and more often three, plus a large quota of programs resuming with new episodes.

Chronologically, highlights of the busy viewing period stack up like this:

"I'm Dickens He's Fenster," a slapstick series about a pair of accident-prone carpenters, moves onto the ABC schedule tonight (9-9:30 EDT). In addition ABC's "Close-up" series resumes with a feature on Russian education (7:30-8:30) on a new time period, as does NBC's "Sing Along with Mitch" (8-8:30).

Jackie Gleason returns to his old spot on CBS Saturday (7:30-8:30 p.m.) with all his old characterizations and some new comedy, a premier that unfortunately runs head-on into ABC's new Roy Rogers-Dale Evans country-style comedy and music hour. There is also the debut of "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" on ABC (8-8:30), a series adapted from the old James Stewart movie with Fess Parker playing the freshman senator.

Sunday marks the start of Jack Webb's new action-adventure anthology series, adapted from real-life incidents, on CBS (9:30-10 p.m.) The old "Voice of Firestone" returns to ABC (10-10:30).

"The Lucy Show," on CBS is the big team on Monday night (8:30-9) with Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance starting new comedy careers as a widow and a divorcee. There is also ABC's contender in the rodeo-rider sweepstakes, "Stony Burke" (9-10). And Johnny Carson moves into NBC's "Tonight Show" as permanent host (11:15-1 a.m.) Merv Griffin also begins his new daytime show on NBC (2-2:55 p.m.) Returning shows include "The Rifleman," "Ben Casey," "The Andy Griffith Journal."

"Combat," one of ABC's two World War II series about fighting men, makes its bow Tuesday (7:30-8:30). Troy Donahue becomes a regular on ABC's "Hawaiian Eye" and "Chet Huntley Reporting" returns to NBC.

Wednesday will be bursting with new material: "Going My Way," starring Gene Kelly, premieres on ABC (8:30-9:30 p.m.) followed by "Our Man Higgins," with Stanley Holloway playing an English butler in an American household (9:30-10). NBC's series about a psychiatrist, "The 11th Hour" has its premier (10-11). In addition, Perry Como starts his new NBC season of shows.

On Thursday, James Stewart will star in a baseball story on ABC's "Premier" program (10-11 p.m.).

Miller Scheduled At Kiwanis Meet

Eugene (Dusty) Miller, formerly of Wilmington, will be guest speaker at Monday evening's regular meeting of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

Miller's talk will be on "Highways and Byways." The session will be conducted at the Mecca Restaurant.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren It's All in His Head!

DEAR ABBY: Since my boy friend has started to smoke a pipe he has become impossible. He is constantly tapping, scraping, filling, lighting and cleaning his pipe. He is so busy with his pipe he hardly has time to hold my hand. And a kiss is out of the question. If he really enjoyed his pipe, I wouldn't mind, but he can't seem to keep it lit for more than a minute at a time, so where does the pipe smoking enjoyment come in? I hear that the reason most men smoke pipes is because they think they look good with a pipe. Is this a fact?

BUGGED
DEAR BUGGED: A real pipe smoker REALLY enjoys a pipe. I'm told. But a man who takes to a pipe because he wants to keep "busy"—or worse yet because he thinks he "looks good," is having what is commonly known as a "pipe dream". Wake him up!

DEAR ABBY: I don't see why a waitress should get a tip for doing her job when sales people, cashiers and cooks don't get tipped for doing theirs. The public seems to have a soft spot in its heart for waitresses. It burns me up because everyone knows that the reason most girls take waitress jobs is to meet men.

Grid Speciality Contest Due To Open Soon

Circleville area boys between the ages of seven and 11 who are accompanied by a parent, are invited to register Monday at Kenny Hannan Ford for the second annual national punt, pass and kick competition.

The registration period is from Oct. 1 to Oct. 31. The contest is sponsored by the National Football League and the nation's Ford Dealers.

Local prizes to be awarded include football warm up jackets, football helmets and footballs.

The contest pits the punting, passing, and place-kicking skills of boys seven through 11 against all other participants of the same age throughout the country.

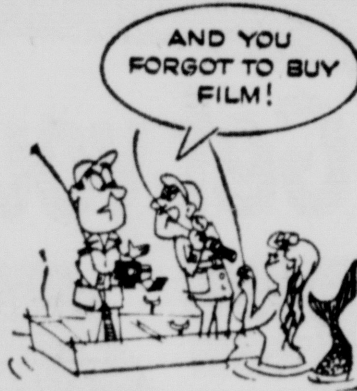

Top prize for the 10 national finalists — one in each age group from the National Football League's Eastern and Western Division team areas — will be an all-expense paid tour of champions for the youths and their parents from Dec. 26-30. It will begin with a two-day visit to Washington D.C. and a tour of the White House.

From Washington, the group will be flown for a two-day visit to the city in which this year's National Football League championship game will be played Dec. 30. At the half-time of the title game the two finalists in each age group from the Eastern and Western Divisions will square off for national honors.

WHAT ARE COOPERATIVES DOING WITH THE TAXPAYER'S MONEY?

Giving It Back To Them!

Have you ever heard the old story about putting a horse hair in water for seven days and nights and having it turn into a worm? Silly, of course, but a lot of people still believe it.

A lot of people still believe some things about cooperatives that aren't true. "They're all run by the government," they say. "They're using the taxpayer's money."

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

In point of fact, the government functions solely as a money-lending agency in the field of rural electric cooperatives. The government loaned them the money to get started—to bring light and power to the darkness of rural America.

The cooperatives pay this money back to the government—with interest! So that not only are cooperatives giving the "taxpayer's money" back to them—they're giving it back to them—and a lot more besides.

South-Central is just one cooperative (out of 29) in the state of Ohio. Yet, as of December 31st, 1961—South-Central had paid the Federal Government a total of $1,274,819.62 in interest on loans!

That's over one and one-quarter million dollars!—in excess of principal repayments.

Paid back to the taxpayers!

A lot of people still believe some things about cooperatives that aren't true. "They're all run by the government," they say. "They're using the taxpayer's money."

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

In point of fact, the government functions solely as a money-lending agency in the field of rural electric cooperatives. The government loaned them the money to get started—to bring light and power to the darkness of rural America.

The cooperatives pay this money back to the government—with interest! So that not only are cooperatives giving the "taxpayer's money" back to them—they're giving it back to them—and a lot more besides.

South-Central is just one cooperative (out of 29) in the state of Ohio. Yet, as of December 31st, 1961 —South-Central had paid the Federal Government a total of $1,274,819.62 in interest on loans!

That's over one and one-quarter million dollars!—in excess of principal repayments.

Paid back to the taxpayers!

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.

Eighteen members were present for the monthly meeting of the Ashville Community Club Monday evening at the Community Park Shelterhouse.

Bud Glitt, president, presided at the meeting. The club voted to again sponsor the annual Halloween Parade and Street Dance Oct. 31. Appointed on the Parade Committee were Roland Featheringham, Charles Morrison, Curtis Williamson and Virgil Walden. Ken Foreman will be responsible for securing the dance band. The dance will be held following the parade in the downtown area. Cider and donuts will be furnished free by the club. On the refreshment committee are Robert Glick and Dale Schiff.

Orlan Hines made a report on the construction of a new dance floor and skating pavilion which is being considered by the club. The approximate cost would be $7,000. The project was tabled until a later date.

The club voted to give Featheringham authorization to purchase needed equipment for the shelterhouse kitchen at a public sale being held in the near future.

Walden was appointed to secure Santa and his sleigh for a visit to Ashville on the night of Dec. 21 and all day on Dec. 22. A Columbus firm will rent this service to the club.

Miss Mary Jo Gaskella, director of music at Teay's Valley High School and Don Collins, president of the Band Boosters, met with the club to appeal for a sizeable donation to help with the expense of newly purchased band uniforms for the new school.

The club voted to make two donations to the Band Boosters this year for the services of the band in the 4th of July Parade, Halloween Parade, and Christmas Parade.

After adjournment, members enjoyed a dinner at Donaldson's Restaurant.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance was called to an auto accident early Sunday morning on Route 23.

Injured in the crash and moved to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, were Denver Gray, Columbus and Brenda Ogan, RFD Lockbourne.

The Ashville - Harrison Volunteer Fire Department made two runs this past week: Sept. 20 firemen were called to the farm of Martin Barr, Route 1, Stoutsville, where a tractor and corn picker owned by Barr and his brother, John, was destroyed.

The fire was caused by spillage of gasoline. Loss was set at $5,700. On Sept. 21, the unit answered a call on Route 23 at Bell Siding to extinguish a field fire. No loss was reported.

Arthur Beatty of Ashville suffered an apparent heart attack Monday afternoon while picking corn on his father's farm at Darbyville. He was moved to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, where he was put under oxygen. He is in room 200.

Army To Hike Its Guerrillas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army reportedly has won approval to boost its elite antiguerrilla Special Forces to about 15,000 men—roughly three times their present strength.

Scope of the projected increase in these tough, versatile fighters was disclosed by Pentagon sources.

A spokesman confirmed that Defense Department chiefs had okayed an increase in ground elements of Army antiguerrilla forces. But he gave no details.

This development tended to bear out an impression that the Army has just about established preeminence in this important phase of U.S. military operations.

For months, the Air Force has sought permission to increase its "Air Commando" force from about 850 to 5,000 men and to develop special aircraft suited to fighting Communist guerrillas.

Fallout Hazard Estimate Too High

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee reports that estimates on fallout hazards have apparently been somewhat too high.

The report estimates that fallout from all weapons tests conducted through 1961 would have the same long-term genetic effect on the U.S. population as that produced during six months to 1½ years of radiation exposure from natural sources.

It noted testimony to the amount of strontium 90—which in large enough doses may cause bone cancer and leukemia—appearing in the diet is only about one-half to one-third as high as previously indicated.

Idyllic Life Due To End for Los Alamos Folk

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—The federal government is preparing to cut the Los Alamos atomic apron strings.

But most of the 13,600 residents of this atomic city don't like the prospect and wish they could continue under the benevolent thumb of the Atomic Energy Commission.

A bill awaiting President Kennedy's signature provides for disposal of all Los Alamos property not directly connected with AEC projects. The action follows similar disposals at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Richland, Wash.

Ramon Sanchez, 23, a gas station attendant, summed up Los Alamos community feeling:

"This town really had it made. The AEC did everything for you —and for free. I hate to see it go."

The AEC does do everything for its dwellers from fixing a leaky faucet to repairing streets—and mowing lawns in some cases. The Za Co., the AEC's giant housekeeper, does most of the chores.

Disposing of property in Los Alamos, which the AEC owns lock, stock and barrel, will not affect the Los Alamos scientific laboratory. Its research, projects and experiments continue with no change.

Another reason Los Alamos doesn't like the changeover is because of the big bite it will take out of the pocketbook.

With the AEC owning everything, there were no taxes other than personal because the federal with Los Alamos residents owning their homes and ground, taxes will make a bigger dent in the take home pay.

The AEC will sell and give away residences, businesses, even churches, schools and the police station.

Los Alamos has some 3,500 dwelling units, ranging from kitchenette apartments to single-family homes, the latter in the minority (only 34 per cent).

The person living in the house at the time of the sale will be given first chance to buy it. Storekeepers will get an opportunity to purchase their business buildings.

There are 45 stores. The total community facilities to be put up for sale are estimated to be worth $38 million.

The federal government will do nate municipal facilities valued between $22 and $24 million. Most of these are churches, schools, parks, a hospital and county offices.

The proposed new law provides for spending $8.7 million in improvements, which will likely include a new courthouse, and $2 or $3 million in annual subsidy payments over a 10-year period. Actual sale of the real estate is not expected to start before mid-1964. The Federal Housing Administration must appraise the homes, each one separately, and this isn't expected to be done until early 1964.

Alabama Tells Negro Mother Stay in Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Mamie Underwood, sent here on a reverse freedom ride along with 10 children and a grandchild last July, wants to go back to Centreville, Ala.

The woman is jobless and almost without funds. She couldn't get regular relief help because she has not been a resident of Cuyahoga County for one year.

In a statement Wednesday night Mrs. Underwood said she doesn't want to be a burden to Cleveland and that life here is hard on her family.

"My kids are not happy here," she said. "My kids are used to running and playing out of doors. My kids are more sick up here than they were in the South. My kids are not used to being in two rooms. My kids don't like to be in the house all the time."

"We are through with her case," said the man who helped Mrs. Underwood and her family on the trip north, then described as a one-way journey.

Jim Oakley, mayor of Centreville and chairman of the Bibb County Citizens Council, said: "I don't feel it's our responsibility to help get her back."

"She said she wanted to go to Cleveland," he added, "she promised to stay there."

Thus Mrs. Underwood wants to leave Cleveland because he is unhappy, but is unwelcome in her former Alabama home.

Face Redleg Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Fred Hutchinson has elected to try out his young pitchers in the Cincinnati Reds' last two contests. He nominated Sammy Ellis to start tonight's contest against Philadelphia and John Tsitouris for the season-end game Sunday against the Phillies.

Opposing Ellis tonight will be Cal McLish.

The last two games are also the final chance for Frank Robinson to try for the National League batting title. He went without a hit in four tries Wednesday night against Pittsburgh and was in second place Thursday at .342 behind Tommy Davis who was hitting .346 for league-leading Los Angeles.

Philadelphia Eagles Given Nod; Packers Too Robust for Bears

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If Sonny Liston is looking for a new challenge now that he's won the heavyweight championship, we'd suggest he try to forecast the winners of the weekend's professional football games.

It's doubtful if Sonny could come close to matching his 34-1 boxing record. Last week's forecasting count from this corner was 6 right, 5 wrong. For the season 10-1-1. Here's another try at it:

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Green Bay over Chicago—Packers are healthy, and defense is too robust for Bears, who have halfbacks Willie Galimore and Charley Bivins on the battered list along with fullback Rick Casares and end Mike Ditka.

Baltimore over Detroit—Lions' Milt Plum has to cool off from 72 per cent completion average, and Colts quarterback Johnny Unitas has answer to Detroit's ferocious line with his better-than-ever passing.

New York over Pittsburgh—Giants showed they can weather fierce aerial attack last week and should handle Bobby Layne, while newly-found backfield speed and Tittle-to-Shorner bombs support their defensive efforts.

Philadelphia over Cleveland—Eagles are due for victory and best way against Browns is Jurgensen to McDonald-Retzlaff combo that goes quicker and farther than Jimmy Brown-Tom Wilson Cleveland ground game.

Dallas over Los Angeles—Cowboys finally put all their offensive guns together, led by passing of Eddie LeBaron and running of Don Perkins. Rams miss Jon Arnett.

St. Louis over Washington—Cards too strong for 'Skins despite Bobby Mitchell magic that helped beat Cleveland last week. Crow running and Etcheverry passing should tell tale.

San Francisco over Minnesota—After two losses, 49ers and John Brodie find heyday they're looking for against Vikings' defensive backfield.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York over Denver—Titans Lee Grosscup and halfback Dick Christy produce offense Bulldog Turner's been looking for.

San Diego over Oakland—Even without Jackie Kemp at quarterback Chargers are set to roll once more in Western division after Houston debacle.

Buffalo over Dallas—Bills have been just missing, but all their new faces are getting to know one another, and they have defense to cope with speedy Texans.

Tiger Frosh Gridmen Trim Sherman in 26-0 Tilt

The Circleville High School freshman football team scored in every quarter yesterday, trouncing the General Sherman of Lancaster frosh, 26-0.

The game, played on the Tiger gridiron, was highlighted by rugged defensive play and a good offensive punch.

The General Sherman gridders were never able to penetrate deeper than the Circleville 15-yard line. George Ramey, the big freshman fullback, scored the Tigers' first touchdown early in the game, going over from the two. The score ended a drive that had started on the Circleville 35.

IN THE second quarter, Ramey blocked a punt on the Sherman 40 and recovered it on the 30 to set up the second touchdown. Howard (Hodge) Dade carried over for the seven yard line and Doug Pontious collected the extra points on a quarterback sneak giving the Tigers a 14-0 lead.

Roy Strawser took the opening kickoff of the second half, handed off to Dade who went all the way, but the play was nullified by a rule infraction.

After driving to the 16, Doug Pontious raced around his own right end for the third touchdown. The final score came in the fourth quarter when Dade intercepted a Sherman pass on the Circleville 42 and galloped 53 yards for the touchdown.

Late in the quarter, Charles Schofield of Sherman recovered a fumbled punt on the Circleville 30, but time ran out before the losers could muster a scoring effort.

THE STARTING line for the young Tigers was Jim Diltz and Charles Smith at ends, Jamie Yost and Dave Iery at tackles, John Funk and Fred Walker at guards, Barry Adams at center. In the backfield it was Doug Pontious at quarterback, Roy Strawser and Howard Dade at halfbacks and George Ramey at fullback.

Bill Brock, a halfback, and Stewart Skinner, an end, also saw limited action.

Willie Mays Pulls Boner, Hurts Giants
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays took a walk Thursday, the kind of trip a rookie might take in spring training. Willie walked to Outsville and, with only three games to play, he apparently took San Francisco's hopes of a National League pennant with him.

This unusual stroll by the hero of the Giants' successful pennant drives in 1951 and 1954 came in the sixth inning as St. Louis whipped San Francisco 7-4.

The defeat, combined with league-leading Los Angeles' 8-6 loss to Houston left the Giants two behind the Dodgers, who still need win only two more games to clinch the flag. Both have three games to play.

St. Louis led 7-0 in the sixth when Mays doubled home Matty Alou. Willie went to third on an infield roller, the first out of the inning. Orlando Cepeda swung at a third strike for out No. 2 and Mays started to walk across the infield to center field.

Catcher Gene Oliver whipped the ball to Ken Boyer and Willie was out by a mile. He thought Cepeda was the third out.

Willie refused to comment on his boner. Third base coach Whitey Lockman couldn't explain it, but Manager Alvin Dark commented simply that "He just went to sleep."

Little World Series Count Is Knotted
ATLANTA (AP) — The Junior World Series between Louisville of the American Association and Atlanta of the International League in all-even at one victory each.

Louisville won the second game of the best-of-seven series 3-1 Thursday night.

The Colonels capitalized on four Cracker errors—one of which, in the ninth inning, paved the way for two Louisville tallies.

Right-hander Fred Olivio held the Crackers to three hits and struck out eight. But the Colonels managed only three hits off Harry Fanok, Billy Muffett and Ed Bautista. Bautista took the loss.

Alan Price will take the mound against southpaw Danny Schneider in tonight's game.

Dennis Checkett, sophomore soccer player at Michigan State, has a brother playing the sport at the U. S. Naval Academy.

NL Flag Marathon Looks Like Race between Turtles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This National League pennant marathon is taking on the look of a race between two tired turtles going uphill.

But if they aren't moving very fast, at least the finish line is in sight.

For all their speed and verve, Los Angeles' pace-setting Dodgers have been backing up. And with a big burst of drive and determination, San Francisco's second-place Giants have been standing still.

The pestiferous Houston Colts applied the latest stopper to the Dodgers with a rallying 8-6 victory Thursday night at Los Angeles. A few hours before the St. Louis Cardinals broke in front with a commanding lead and held on for a 7-4 decision at San Francisco.

That left the Dodgers still two games in front of the Giants and the magic number at two—meaning any combination of Dodger wins and-or Giant losses totaling two in the remaining three games gives Los Angeles the flag. The two contenders now change partners, with the Cards moving into Los Angeles for the final three games of the season and the Colts going to San Francisco for the windup weekend.

Gene Oliver and Stan Musial spearheaded the Cards' against the Giants. Oliver warmed up with a double, then smacked a three-run homer that stood up as the clincher, while Musial collected five singles in five tries.

In the NL's only other game, double plus rookie right-hander Ray Washburn's single gave St. Louis another run in the fourth, then came the Cards' big fifth climaxed by Oliver's big hit.

Washburn's win is 12-9 while O'Dell, looking for his 20th victory, lost his 14th.

Wrigley Field's smallest crowd of the year, 617, watched Bennett 22, deal the Cubs their 102nd loss and 14th shutout this season. Bennett struck out six and walked three. Tony Taylor and Roy Sievers collected three hits each for the Phillies and Clay Dalrymple homered.

TV Boosters To Meet
Plans for a dance, slated Oct. 6, and the booth at the Pumpkin Show will be discussed 8 p. m. Monday when the Teays Valley Booster Club meets at the high school.

Byron Nelson won the 1940 and 1945 PGA championships and was runnerup three times.

Dennis Bennett fired a five-hitter as the sizzling Philadelphia Phils won for the 19th time in their last 24 games, 7-0 over Chicago.

The American League resumes competition today after taking Thursday off. Right-hander Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox, gunning for his 300th career victory, faces the champion Yankees at New York tonight; Los Angeles is at Cleveland for a two-night doubleheader; and Baltimore is at Minnesota and Kansas City at Detroit for day games. Washington and Boston are idle.

Even in defeat the Dodgers were heartened by the work of Sandy Koufax, their left-handed strikeout specialist who is just rounding into form after a two-month layoff due to circulation trouble in the index finger of his pitching hand. He went five innings before he tired, set down the first 11 Colts in order, struck out four and allowed three hits.

But the Dodgers' relief corps failed badly. The Colts hopped on Ed Roebuck and Larry Sherry for four hits and their four runs in the sixth, taking a 6-4 lead, and after Los Angeles rallied for a tie in the bottom of the inning, Houston scrambled ahead again in the seventh against Ron Perranoski.

Unbricht took over with the bases filled and none out in the sixth and wound up with his fourth victory in as many decisions.

The Cardinals lost little time taking charge against the Giants, rapping lefty Billy O'Dell for two runs in the first inning. Oliver's

Rookie Pitchers Face Redleg Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Fred Hutchinson has elected to try out his young pitchers in the Cincinnati Reds' last two contests. He nominated Sammy Ellis to start tonight's contest against Philadelphia and John Tstouris for the season-end game Sunday against the Phillies.

Opposing Ellis tonight will be Cal McLish.

The last two games are also the final chance for Frank Robinson to try for the National League batting title.

He went without a hit in four tries Wednesday night against Pittsburgh and was in second place Thursday at .342 behind Tommy Davis who was hitting .346 for league-leading Los Angeles.

AP Guesspert Tickets Browns On Defeat List

Philadelphia Eagles Given Nod; Packers Too Robust for Bears

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—If Sonny Liston is looking for a new challenge now that he's won the heavyweight championship, we'd suggest he try to forecast the winners of the weekend's professional football games.

It's doubtful if Sonny could come close to matching his 34-1 boxing record.

Last week's forecasting count from this corner was 6 right, 5 wrong. For the season 10-1-1.
Here's another try at it:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Green Bay over Chicago—Packers are healthy, and defense is too robust for Bears, who have halfbacks Willie Galimore and Charley Bivins on the battered list along with fullback Rick Casares and end Mike Ditka.

Baltimore over Detroit—Lions' Milt Plum has to cool off from 72 per cent completion average, and Colts quarterback Johnny Unitas has answer to Detroit's feroocious line with his better-than-ever passing.

New York over Pittsburgh—Giants showed they can weather fiery aerial attack last week and should handle Bobby Layne, while newly-found backfield speed and Tittle-to-Shorner bombs support their defensive efforts.

Philadelphia over Cleveland—Eagles are due for victory and best way against Browns is J. J. Burges to McDonald-Retzlaff combo that goes quicker and farther than Jimmy Brown-Tom Wilson
Cleveland ground game.

Dallas over Los Angeles—Cowboys finally put all their offensive guns together, led by passing of Eddie LeBaron and running of Don Perkins. Rams miss Jon Arnett.

St. Louis over Washington—Cards too strong for 'Skins despite Bobby Mitchell magic that helped beat Cleveland last week.
Crow running and Etchevery passing should tell tale.

San Francisco over Minnesota—
After two losses, 49ers and John Brodie find heyday they're looking for against Vikings defensive backfield.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York over Denver—Titans
Lee Grosscup and halfback Dick Christy produce offense Bulldog Turner's been looking for.

San Diego over Oakland—Even without Jackie Kemp at quarterback Chargers are set to roll once more in Western division after Houston debacle.

Buffalo over Dallas—Bills have been just missing, but all their new faces are getting to know one another, and they have defense to cope with speedy Texans.

Tiger Frosh Gridmen Trim Sherman in 26-0 Tilt

The Circleville High School freshman football team scored in every quarter yesterday, trouncing the General Sherman of Lancaster frosh, 26-0.

The game, played on the Tiger gridiron, was highlighted by agged defensive play and a good offensive punch.

The General Sherman gridgers were never able to penetrate deeper than the Circleville 15-yard line.

George Ramey, the big freshman fullback, scored the 'Tigers' first touchdown early in the game, going over from the two. The score ended a drive that had started on the Circleville 35.

IN THE second quarter, Ramey blocked a punt on the Sherman 40 and recovered it on the 30 to set up the second touchdown.

Howard (Hodge) Dade carried over for the seven yard line and Doug Pontious collected the extra points on a quarterback sneak giving the Tigers a 14-0 lead.

Roy Strawser took the opening kickoff of the second half, handed off to Dade who went all the way, but the play was nullified by a rule infraction.

After driving to the 16, Doug Pontious raced around his own right end for the third touchdown.

The final score came in the fourth quarter when Dade intercepted a Sherman pass on the Circleville 42 and galloped 53 yards for the touchdown.

Late in the quarter, Charles Sehofield of Sherman recovered a fumbled punt on the Circleville 30, but time ran out before the losers could muster a scoring effort.

THE STARTING line for the young Tigers was Jim Diltz and Charles Smith at ends, Jamie Yost and Dave Iery at tackles, John Funk and Fred Walker at guards, Barry Adams at center. In the backfield it was Doug Pontious at quarterback, Roy Strawser and Howard Dade at halfbacks and George Ramey at fullback.

Bill Brock, a halfback, and Stewart Skinner, an end, also saw limited action.

Willie Mays Pulls Boner, Hurts Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays took a walk Thursday, the kind of trip a rookie might take in spring training. Willie walked to Outsville and, with only three games to play, he apparently took San Francisco's hopes of a National League pennant with him.

This unusual stroll by the hero of the Giants' successful pennant drives in 1951 and 1954 came in the sixth inning as St. Louis whipped San Francisco 7-4.

The defeat, combined with league-leading Los Angeles' 8-6 loss to Houston left the Giants two behind the Dodgers, who still need win only two more games to cinch the flag. Both have three games to play.

St. Louis led 7-0 in the sixth when Mays doubled home Matty Alou. Willie went to third on an infield roller, the first out of the inning. Orlando Cepeda swung at a third strike for out No. 2 and Mays started to walk across the infield to center field.

Catcher Gene Oliver whipped the ball to Ken Boyer and Willie was out by a mile. He thought Cepeda was the third out.

Willie refused to comment on his boner. Third base coach Whitey Lockman couldn't explain it, but Manager Alvin Dark commented simply that "He just went to sleep."

NL Flag Marathon Looks Like Race between Turtles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This National League pennant marathon is taking on the look of a race between two tired turtles going uphill.

But if they aren't moving very sight.

For all their speed and verve,
Los Angeles' pace-setting Dodgers have been backing up. And with a big burst of drive and determination, San Francisco's second-place Giants have been standing still.

The pestiferous Houston Colts applied the latest stopper to the Dodgers with a rallying 8-6 victory Thursday night at Los Angeles. A few hours before the St.
Louis Cardinals broke in front with a commanding lead and held on for a 7-4 decision at San Francisco.

That left the Dodgers still two games in front of the Giants and the magic number at two—meaning any combination of Dodger wins and-or Giant losses totaling two in the remaining three games gives Los Angeles the flag. The two contenders now change partners, with the Cards moving into Los Angeles for the final three games of the season and the Colts going to San Francisco for the windup weekend.

Gene Oliver and Stan Musial spearheaded the Cards' against the Giants. Oliver warmed up with a double, then smacked a three-run homer that stood up as the clincher, while Musial collected five singles in five tries.

In the NL's only other game,

Dennis Bennett fired a five-hitter as the sizzling Philadelphia Phils won for the 19th time in their last 24 games, 7-0 over Chicago.

The American League resumes competition today after taking Thursday off. Right-hander Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox, gunning for his 300th career victory, faces the champion Yankees at New York tonight; Los Angeles is at Cleveland for a two-night doubleheader; and Baltimore is at Minnesota and Kansas City at Detroit for day games. Washington and Boston are idle.

Even in defeat the Dodgers were heartened by the work of Sandy Koufax, their left-handed strikeout specialist who is just rounding into form after a two-month layoff due to circulation trouble in the index finger of his pitching hand. He went five innings before he tired, set down the first 11 Colts in order, struck out four and allowed three hits.

But the Dodgers' relief corps failed badly. The Colts hopped on Ed Roebuck and Larry Sherry for four hits and their four runs in the sixth, taking a 6-4 lead, and after Los Angeles rallied for a tie in the bottom of the inning, Houston scrambled ahead again in the seventh against Ron Perranoski.

Umbrecht took over with the bases filled and none out in the sixth and wound up with his fourth victory in as many decisions.

The Cardinals lost little time taking charge against the Giants, rapping lefty Billy O'Dell for two runs in the first inning. Oliver's double plus rookie right-hander Ray Washburn's single gave St.

Louis another run in the fourth,
then came the Cards' big fifth climax by Oliver's big hit.

Washburn's own is 12-9 while O'Dell, looking for his 20th victory, lost his 14th.

Wrigley Field's smallest crowd of the year, 617, watched Bennett 22, deal the Cubs their 192nd loss and 14th shutout this season. Bennett struck out six and walked three. Tony Taylor and Roy Sievers collected three hits each for the Phillies and Clay Dalrymple homered.

Iowa Hawkeyes Not Picked As Big Ten Contenders

By WALTER JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

IOWA CITY, Ia.—They've installed a new offense — the "Floating T" — at Iowa this year and where it goes nobody knows. And that includes the head coach, Jerry Burns himself.

Something new, also, is the drop in rating of the Hawkeyes, who were picked as national champs last year and then ran into injury troubles which cut them down to a 5-4 mark. In his freshman season in 1961 Burns was on the spot — before, during and after the season — but came out with flying colors and that new offense.

While it probably would take a football tactician and a chart maker to detail the "floating T," and while it's not exactly new, let it be said that this involves a "floater," or fifth back, who lines up at end, often split, and permits the use of only one tackle on offense. The "floater," in a sense, becomes the tackle.

Burns described the mixed-up biz as an outgrowth of the squad personnel.

We thought we would be blessed with ends here," Burns explains, "and knew that we'd be weak at tackle on offense. The purpose of the formation is to give the forward passer more targets and create more problems for the defense."

"And," added Burns, "probably for ourselves and our players."

In this offense Sammie Harris and Paul Krause will be the "floaters." They then will play safety. Harris was the No. 1 right half last year. Krause is 6-foot 3-inch tall and is a fine defensive back.

Both will drop back, as the occasion arises, or can be used as ends.

Iowa had top personnel last year but All-American halfback Larry Ferguson suffered a knee injury in the first game and didn't play all year. Wilburn Hollis, the quarterback, was injured early in October and he was out. And end Jim Winston broke a leg October 7 and he was lost.

Ferguson is back as captain and left halfback but his knee might be questionable. Hollis had graduated and Winston is back but not ready for heavy action.

There are some other outstanding players on the 1962 Hawkeye squad, one of the lightest and smallest in recent Iowa history. Back are such as end Clyde Webb, quarterback Matt Szykowny, who did such a fine job last year, right half Lonnie Rogers and fullback Bill Perkins.

Another who is expected to be set for future stardom is Willie Ray Smith Jr., a sizzling halfback from Beaumont, Tex., and described by Burns as possessing the finest potential of any halfback we have had here. He plays defense real well, is a tough kid, a fine runner and catches the ball well. He's as good a prospect as Willie Fleming was."

Smith has some knee trouble, however, and this may hamper his effectiveness as No. 2 left half behind Ferguson.

"We haven't had any particular surprises so far," says Burns in evaluating the 1962 Hawks. "We feel our first club will measure favorably with any other club in the conference. I may be over-optimistic but I can't be any other way. We'll have running ability, and passing ability in Szykowny — especially on the short passes."

"There may be three or four fairly close to the first squad, but there's a dropoff from there."

Asked to name the "three or four" Burns singled out Smith, Jonathon

NEW YORK (AP)—It sure was a busy night in television's obituary books.

"Dr. Kildare," starting his new season on NBC, was having his troubles with a patient soon to experience motherhood. Two nurses, a couple of channels away on CBS were handling everything from births and deaths to emotional problems with only occasional assistance from the doctors.

I stayed with "The Nurses," a new series quite obviously inspired by the successful doctor stories. The opening show concentrated on hectic events during one busy night in the maternity ward manned primarily by wise, kindly head nurse Thorpe, and idealistic, dedicated student nurse Lucas (Shirley Conway and Zina Bethune).

It will be an interesting series — if you aren't getting a little weary of stethoscopes, operating room scenes, intimate clinical descriptions, medical jargon and all that jazz.

And speaking of jazz, Andy Williams also turned up Thursday night with a smooth, sleek and delightfully melodic variety hour on NBC. Andy sings well, has as easy, low pressure style and had lots of help from Peggy Lee and George Gobel. This looks like a winner.

Recommended weekend viewing: Tonight — "I'm Dickens...He's Fenster," premiere, ABC, 9-9:30

(Eastern Daylight Time) — new broad comedy series about a pair of carpenters; returning with new shows, "Close-Up," ABC, 7:30-8:30 and "Sing Along with Mitch," NBC, 8:30-9:30.

Saturday—"The Jackie Gleason Show," premiere, CBS, 7:30-8:30 p.m.—variety hour with Jackie returning with many of his old characters and some new additions; "Roy Rogers-Dale Evans Show," premiere, ABC, 7:30-8:30—variety hour, taped at the Seaside World's Fair; "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9—Fess Parker stars as a freshman senator in a comedy series.

Sunday—Jack Webb Show, premiere, CBS, 9:30-10 p.m.—new anthology series based on true adventure tales; "Voice of Firestone," premiere, ABC, 10:10-10:30—musical hour with Cesare Siepi, Rise Stevens and Mischa Elman; returning with new shows, "Lassie," "Dennis the Menace," "Real McCoys," "Candid Camera," all on CBS.

Canada Chief Faces Threat In Parliament

OTTAWA (AP)—A new threat to Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker's minority government developed today after three opposition leaders trained a stream of critical fire on his proposed new legislative program.

The conservative government outlined its plans to inject new life into the economy at the opening session of Canada's 25th Parliament Thursday.

Sharply unfavorable reaction came swiftly from the chiefs of the opposition parties.

"A rehash. Most disappointing and inadequate," said Lester B. Pearson, Liberal party leader.

"Confusing verbiage that veils the shortcomings and omissions," said Robert Thompson, Social Credit chief.

"If this stands as a definite commitment by this government, we are headed for real trouble," said T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democrats.

Diefenbaker's program, set forth in the traditional speech from the throne, emphasized measures aimed at dispelling what Canadian political leaders have called the nation's financial and economic crisis.

Among the stipulated objectives were:

A balanced federal budget. Canada has had five consecutive years of deficit spending. The message said a program of economies in government expenditures will be presented to Parliament.

"Positive constructive measures to strengthen Canada's balance of international payments."

For nine years, there has been an imbalance. Last summer, the government borrowed $650 million to bolster foreign exchange reserves.

"A climate in Canada hospitable to foreign investment." The speech pointed out that Canadian development needs imports of capital. The American investment alone is officially estimated at $18 billion.

A national economic development board to review the economy, and to "recommend particular projects or measures which it considers would be in the interest of national development."

The combined votes of the three opposition parties are enough to destroy Diefenbaker's regime on a motion of confidence.

They hold a total of 148 seats in Parliament, as against 116 for Diefenbaker's Conservatives. A majority of 133 would unseat the government, necessitating a new general election.

Pearson has said he would move a vote of no confidence in his opening speech in Parliament Monday.

DiSalle Decries Reports Ohio Economy in Bad Shape

SALEM, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's economy is not in as bad a shape as some people try to picture it, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said at a dinner meeting here.

The governor criticized "political orators who pick out the worst statistics they can find and put them forth in an effort to show Ohio's economy on the decline."

Winding up a one-day campaign jaunt through Jefferson and Columbiana counties, Gov. DiSalle told the dinner meeting Thursday night:

"Our overall employment picture is good. Maybe not as good as we would like to see it, but there are considerable signs of improvement and there is no reason to be pushing the panic button at this time."

He cautioned his listeners against "orators who try to take statistics on the job situation or economic condition in Ohio and twist them to their own ends."

None of these statistics prove anything by themselves, the governor said. "You have to consider the whole picture, and the voters haven't been getting exactly that in recent weeks."

However, in Steubenville, State Auditor James A. Rhodes told a Jefferson County audience the Democratic administration's lack of a program has cost the county's economy heavily in jobs and income.

Lack of a job development program in Ohio has meant a loss of $8,782,500 in retail sales in the county, the Republican candidate for governor said in a speech Thursday night.

If the county had kept pace with the national average in increase in employment, Rhodes said, there would be 2,342 more jobs in the county. These jobs would have meant 4,215 more homes, 3,747 more automobiles and $17,565,000 more life insurance, said Rhodes.

"This is the extent to which the present administration's lack of a program and quarrelsome attitude has robbed your economy," Rhodes declared.

Appeals Court To Hear Case Of Dad's Boycott of Schools

CINCINNATI (AP)—The 1st Ohio Circuit Court of Appeals is to decide whether a father can take his children from a public school if he considers it dangerous to their mental and physical welfare.

Attorney William Flax said he filed the appeal in behalf of Lawrence Ashcraft Monday.

The legal dispute goes back to 1960 after Ashcraft took his sons, Robert and Lawrence Jr., out of Columbian School. He contended that the school, whose pupils include a large percentage of Negroes, was a blackboard jungle.

Since Ashcraft lived in the Columbia School District, school officials refused to allow him to leave the boys at Schiel School. After Ashcraft withdrew the boys, then 10 and 9, he was charged with four counts of tending to cause their delinquency.

The charges were filed by Wendell Pierce, Superintendent of schools and Harry L. Lodge, truant officer.

The charges were dismissed after Ashcraft enrolled his sons at a parochial school.

Ashcraft sued Pierce and Lodge for $342,525 damages, claiming the officials filed charges against him maliciously to intimidate him in the dispute.

Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess ruled against Ashcraft April 3. The case had been argued by deposition, including statements by youngsters who attended Columbian School and affidavits by four men who represented themselves as experts on racial matters.

In the appeal, Ashcraft contended the pupils' testimony amply backed up claims that leaving his sons at Columbian School would place them in danger of being turned into delinquents.

The appeal contended Ashcraft would have violated state law by leaving his children at the school. The laws cited concern the protection of children from delinquency.

Tax Collections In Pickaway Co. Show Increase

Prepaid sales tax receipts in Pickaway County for the week ending Sept. 22 were $5,669.06, bringing the total collected for the fiscal year to $62,547.80, according to a report received from Joseph T. Ferguson, treasurer of the state.

This total is well ahead of tax collections last year when only $47,735.63 were collected during the first 11 weeks of the fiscal year.

Motor vehicle taxes collected during the week brought the yearly total to $44,806.33, an increase of $13,159.27 over tax monies for a similar period in 1961.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
A P Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—It sure was a busy night in television's obscurest wards.

"Dr. Kildare," starting his new season on NBC, was having his troubles with a patient soon to experience motherhood. Two nurses, a couple of channels away on CBS were handling everything from births and deaths to emotional problems with only occasional assistance from the doctors.

I stayed with "The Nurses," a new series quite obviously inspired by the successful doctor stories. The opening show concentrated on hectic events during one busy night in the maternity ward, manned primarily by wise, kindly head nurse Thorpe, and idealistic, dedicated student nurse Lucas (Shirley Conway and Zina Bethune).

It will be an interesting series—if you aren't getting a little weary of stethoscopes, operating room scenes, intimate clinical descriptions, medical jargon and all that jazz.

And speaking of jazz, Andy Williams also turned up Thursday night with a smooth, sleek and delightfully melodic variety hour on NBC. Andy sings well, has as easy, low pressure style and had lots of help from Peggy Lee and George Gobel. This looks like a winner.

Canada Chief Faces Threat In Parliament

OTTAWA (AP)—A new threat to Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker's minority government developed today after three opposition leaders trained a stream of critical fire on his proposed new legislative program.

The conservative government outlined its plans to inject new life into the economy at the opening session of Canada's 25th Parliament Thursday.

Sharply unfavorable reaction came swiftly from the chiefs of the opposition parties.

"A reshuffle. Most disappointing and inadequate," said Lester B. Pearson, Liberal party leader.

"Confusing verbiage that veils the shortcomings and omissions," said Robert Thompson, Social Credit chief.

"If this stands as a definite commitment by this government, we are headed for real trouble," said T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democrats.

Diefenbaker's program, set forth in the traditional speech from the throne, emphasized measures aimed at dispelling what Canadian political leaders have called the nation's financial and economic crisis.

Among the stipulated objectives were:

A balanced federal budget. Canada has had five consecutive years of deficit spending. The message said a program of economies in government expenditures will be presented to Parliament.

"Positive constructive measures to strengthen Canada's balance of international payments." For nine years, there has been an imbalance. Last summer, the government borrowed $650 million to bolster foreign exchange reserves.

"A climate in Canada hospitable to foreign investment." The speech pointed out that Canadian development needs imports of capital. The American investment alone is officially estimated at $18 billion.

A national economic development board to review the economy, and to "recommend particular projects or measures which it considers would be in the interest of national development."

The combined votes of the three opposition parties are enough to destroy Diefenbaker's regime on a motion of confidence. They hold a total of 148 seats in Parliament, as against 116 for Diefenbaker's Conservatives. A majority of 133 would unseat the government, necessitating a new general election.

Pearson has said he would move a vote of no confidence in his opening speech in Parliament Monday.

DiSalle Decries Reports Ohio Economy in Bad Shape

SALEM, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's economy is not in as bad a shape as some people try to picture it, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said at a dinner meeting here.

The governor criticized "political orators who pick out the worst statistics they can find and put them forth in an effort to show Ohio's economy on the decline."

Winding up a one-day campaign jaunt through Jefferson and Columbiana counties, Gov. DiSalle told the dinner meeting Thursday night:

"Our overall employment picture is good. Maybe not as good as we would like to see it, but there are consistent signs of improvement and there is no reason to be pushing the panic button at this time."

He cautioned his listeners against "orators who try to take statistics on the job situation or economic condition in Ohio and twist them to their own ends."

None of these statistics prove anything by themselves, the governor said. "You have to consider the whole picture, and the voters haven't been getting exactly that in recent weeks."

However, in Steubenville, State Auditor James A. Rhodes told a Jefferson County audience the Democratic administration's lack of a program has cost the county's economy heavily in jobs and income.

Lack of a job development program in Ohio has meant a loss of $8,782,500 in retail sales in the county, the Republican candidate for governor said in a speech Thursday night.

If the county had kept pace with the national average increase in employment, Rhodes said, there would be 2,342 more jobs in the county. These jobs would have meant 4,215 more homes, 3,747 more automobiles and $17,565,000 more life insurance, said Rhodes.

"This is the extent to which the present administration's lack of a program and quarrelsome attitude has robbed your economy," Rhodes declared.

Appeals Court To Hear Case Of Dad's Boycott of Schools

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1st Ohio Circuit Court of Appeals is to decide whether a father can take his children from a public school if he considers it dangerous to their mental and physical welfare.

Attorney William Flax said he filed the appeal in behalf of Lawrence Ashcraft Monday.

The legal dispute goes back to 1960 after Ashcraft took his sons, Robert and Lawrence Jr., out of Columbian School. He contended that the school, whose pupils include a large percentage of Negroes, was a blackboard jungle.

Since Ashcraft lived in the Columbia School District, school officials refused to allow him to leave the boys at Schiel School. After Ashcraft withdrew the boys, then 10 and 9, he was charged with four counts of tending to cause their delinquency.

The charges were filed by Wendell Pierce, Superintendent of schools and Harry L. Lodge, truant officer.

The charges were dismissed after Ashcraft enrolled his sons at a parochial school.

Ashcraft sued Pierce and Lodge for $342,525 damages, claiming the officials filed charges against him maliciously to intimidate him in the dispute.

Common Pleas Court Judge Otis Hess ruled against Ashcraft April 3. The case had been argued by deposition, including statements by youngsters who attended Columbian School and affidavits by four men who represented themselves as experts on racial matters.

In the appeal, Ashcraft contended the pupils' testimony amply backed up claims that leaving his sons at Columbian School would place them in danger of being turned into delinquents.

The appeal contended Ashcraft would have violated state law by leaving his children at the school.

The laws cited concern the protection of children from delinquency.
